

Our singular focus is to help your business thrive by strengthening your competitive position.

To this end, Breakaway Information Group's analysts provide actionable intelligence and expert guidance based on our constant engagement with technology innovators in dynamic markets.

We are BIG believers in active communication. Regular contact, honest dialog and an open exchange of ideas with our clients make our services effective. We provide each client the knowledge, confidence and guidance to realize improved business results through innovation, allowing them to breakaway from the crowd to achieve measurably higher levels of business success.

This is our promise to you.

William P. Hurley
President & Senior Analyst

BIG-Mission